This responds to your letter dated September 17, 1999, and subsequent correspondence, written on behalf of X, requesting a ruling that the termination of X's S corporation status was an inadvertent termination under section 1362(f) of the Internal Revenue Code.

FACTS

According to the information submitted, X was incorporated on Date 1. Subsequent to incorporation, X made an S corporation election effective Date 1, that was accepted by the applicable Service Center. X has always reported as an S corporation. On Date 2, X stock was transferred to Trust 1, Trust 2 and Trust 3 ("the Trusts"). X represents that each of the Trusts is a qualified subchapter S trust (a

PLR- 115583-99

"QSST") as defined in section 1361(d)(3). Due to an oversight, none of the Trusts' beneficiaries made a timely QSST election under section 1362(d)(2), thereby terminating X's S corporation election on Date 2. When X's counsel discovered the oversight, X submitted this private letter ruling request.

X represents that the failure of the Trusts' beneficiaries to file QSST elections was inadvertent. Moreover, X and its shareholders represent that, notwithstanding the termination of X's S corporation election, they have continued to treat X as an S corporation and the shareholders and the income beneficiaries of the Trusts, have included in gross income their allocable shares of X's income and loss.

LAW AND ANALYSIS

Section 1361(a)(1) defines an S corporation as a small business corporation for which an election under section 1362(a) is in effect. Section 1361(b)(1) defines "small business corporation" as a domestic corporation that is not an ineligible corporation and that does not (A) have more than 75 shareholders, (B) have as a shareholder a person (other than an estate, other than a trust described in section 1361(c)(2), and other than an organization described in (c)(6)) who is not an individual, (C) have a nonresident alien as a shareholder, and (D) have more than one class of stock.

Section 1361(c)(2)(A)(i) provides that a trust, all of which is treated (under subpart E of part I of subchapter J of chapter 1) as owned by an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States, may be a subchapter S corporation shareholder.

Section 1361(d)(1) states that a QSST whose beneficiary makes an election under section 1361(d)(2) will be treated as a trust described in section 1361(c)(2)(A)(i), and the QSST's beneficiary will be treated as the owner (for purposes of section 678(a)) of that portion of the QSST's S corporation stock to which the election under section 1361(d)(2) applies.

Under section 1361(d)(2)(A), the beneficiary of a QSST may elect to have section 1361(d) apply. Under section 1361(d)(2)(D), this election will be effective up to 15 days and two months before the date of the election.

Under section 1362(d)(2), an election to be an S corporation will be terminated whenever the corporation ceases to be a small business corporation.

Section 1362(f) provides that a corporation is treated as continuing to be an S corporation during the period specified by the Secretary if (1) an election under section 1362(a) by any corporation was terminated under paragraph (2) or (3) of section 1362(d), (2) the Secretary determines that the termination was inadvertent, (3) no later than a reasonable period of time after discovery of the terminating event, steps were taken so that the corporation is once more a small business corporation, and (4) the corporation, and each person who was a shareholder of the corporation at any time during the period specified pursuant to section 1362(f) , agrees to make any adjustments (consistent with the treatment of the corporation as an S corporation) as may be required by the Secretary with respect to that period.

S. Rep. No. 640, 97th Cong., 2d Sess. 12-13 (1982), 1982-2 C.B. 718, 723-24, in discussing section 1362(f) of the Code, provides, in part, as follows:

If the Internal Revenue Service determines that a corporation's subchapter S election is inadvertently terminated, the Service can waive the effect of the terminating event for any period if the corporation timely corrects the event and if the corporation and the shareholders agree to be treated as if the election had been in effect for such period.

The committee intends that the Internal Revenue Service be reasonable in granting waivers, so that corporations whose subchapter S eligibility requirements have been inadvertently violated do not suffer the tax consequences of a termination if no tax avoidance would result from the continued subchapter S treatment. In granting a waiver, it is hoped that taxpayers and the government will work out agreements that protect the revenues without undue hardship to taxpayers It is expected that the waiver may be made retroactive for all years, or retroactive for the period in which the corporation again became eligible for subchapter S treatment, depending on the facts.

CONCLUSIONS

Based solely on the facts submitted and representations set forth above, we conclude that the termination of X's subchapter S election on Date 2 was inadvertent within the meaning of section 1362(f) provided that X and its shareholders have filed returns consistent with X's status as an S corporation since Date 2.

Pursuant to section 1362(f), X will be treated as continuing to be an S corporation from Date 2, and thereafter, unless X's election is otherwise terminated.

Except as specifically set forth above, no opinion is expressed concerning the federal tax consequences of the facts described above under any other provision of the Code. Specifically, no opinion is expressed on whether X's original election to be an S corporation was a valid election under section 1362 or whether the Trusts are QSSTs within the meaning of section 1361(d)(3).

This ruling is directed only to the taxpayer who requested it. Section 6110(k)(3) of the Code provides that it may not be used or cited as precedent.
